

Dear Heart: Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

Dear heart, I know your soul is weary
Dear heart, I know you feel alone
I know you feel you don't belong
Like you don't have a home

Dear heart, you have a home with me
I love you more than everything you see
I know these shadows drag you down
But I'm with you here and now
So don't lose heart
You are stronger than you know
Don't lose heart
You are dearer to me than you'll ever know

Dear heart, I know your spirit's broken
Dear heart, I know you feel forsaken
I know you feel you can't hold on
Like you won't ever be... free again

Dear heart, you have a home with me
I love you more than everything you see
I know these shadows drag you down
But I'm with you here and now
So don't lose heart
You are stronger than you know
Don't lose heart
You are dearer to me than you'll ever know

When your strength gives out
And your courage fails
When your wonder goes
And your vision fades...

Dear heart, you have a home
And I love you more
I know these shadows drag you down
But I'm with you here and now
So don't lose heart
Don't lose heart
You are far more dear to me... than you will ever know
