

He Gave Me the Sea (“Lie-lady-roo”): Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

He gave me the sea
Told me it belonged to me
Safe because he’s strong
He taught me the song
To sing along
A song of ocean waves
Of all the sunny days in June

The sun is sinking down
Slowly the dark is all around
In a mason jar we caught fireflies and stars
With all my heart
Riding on his shoulders
As the summer air grows colder
It’s true

I wanna be you when I grow up
To live a life of love would be enough for me
And you
Lie-da-lady-lay-roo

He gave me the sea
Seashells--pockets full o’ these
Castles in the sand
Holding Momma’s hands
And all is well
A song of ocean waves
And all the sunny days in June

I wanna be you when I grow up
To live a life of love would be enough for me
And you
I wanna be you
To live a life of love would be enough for me
And you too
Lie-da-lady-lay-roo
Lie-lady-la-roo
