

Satellites: Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

Somethin' about the room tonight
Reminds me of a memory
From years... years ago
There were only six of us then how we've grown

We were lyin' on the dock
Reading aloud by starlight
Lookin' for Orion's Belt and satellites
I can still hear the water even then.....I knew

Walkin' through the woods at night
The air is cold and silvery
But I feel the glow
Of a little Primus fire in the snow

We were chasin' the owl moon
Flyin' above the timberline
Lookin' for Orion's Belt and satellites
I can still feel the laughter of the wind..... I knew

That round and around and around again
This memory would always come around again, like satellites

Sailin' lonely roads at night
Surrounded by my family
This song filled my soul
Country music on the radio

We were caught-up in a dream
Beneath the falling stars
Lookin' for Orion's Belt and satellites
I can still see the magic of that night, I knew

That round and around and around again
This memory would always come around again
Round and around and around again
This memory will always come around again like satellites
