

She Almost Did: Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

Five a.m. in a hospital bed
Tired, alone, and scared
Her doctor handed her a ray of hope
A brown-eyed baby girl

An unexpected, overwhelming love
From the first little yawn
To think she might have missed this
She almost did

Coming home from school one day
The brown-eyed girl announced
Johnny, a friend, had asked her to a dance
Please, could she go?

An unexpected, overwhelming love
From the first little yawn
To think she might have missed this
She almost did

In the church, Johnny's hand in hers
A fantasy world
With faith in their eyes they promised forever
Forever and ever they do

A great debate turned to grace from God
Could she ever forget
To think she might have missed this
She almost did

An unexpected, overwhelming love
From the first little yawn
To think she might have missed this
She almost did