

The Fisherman: Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

The fisherman's out on the lake today
You ask me, that's my guess anyway
Go down into town and you will see
Living legend and riddle is he

In a lodge by the fire
Whispered stories inspire my own
From deep down below
A rod and a reel
The magic you feel and fear
Will appear

Children wait by the shore to spy
Big river pike with their very own eyes
When he returns with his catch tonight
His greatest prize stands by his side, she sings--

In a lodge by the fire
Whispered stories inspire my own
From deep down below
A rod and a reel
The magic you feel and fear
Will appear

The Chippewa Flow deeps winter night
The wonder asleep, hidden from sight
Children knock at his door, eyes open wide
The Hall of Fame angler of muskie abides

In a lodge by the fire
Whispered stories inspire my own
From deep down below
A rod and a reel
The magic you feel and fear
Will appear

A little girl sings with the fisherman's wife
Her song a-calling the river to life, she sings--