

Wander with Me: Music and lyrics by Brittany Jean

I have sung for bread and flowers in the park and the market
I know how it feels to begin
I have sung for children dancing by the river in summer
I know how it feels to be young

I haven't taken to the road
I have taken to tomorrow
For wandering along with me
I wrote this song for you

I have sung for those I only know in passing on the fairground
I know how it feels to be lost
I have sung for open hearts in lyric halls and highlands
I know how it feels to be found

I haven't taken to the road
I have taken to tomorrow
For wandering along with me
I wrote this song for you
For you are welcome to wander with me
You... you're welcome to wander with me

I have sung for the dreamers—daring me to fly
I know how it feels to be brave
I have sung for those I love in the comfort of home
I know how it feels to be loved... loved

I haven't taken to the road
I have taken to tomorrow
For wandering along with me
I wrote this song for you
I have not taken to the road
I have taken to tomorrow
For wandering along with me
I wrote this song for you
For you are welcome to wander with me
You... you're welcome to wander with me

You're welcome to wander with me
Won't you wander
Wander with me
